

Table of Contents

Preface	ix
1 The Chinese Way of Life, Version 2014	1
PART I
Customs and Traditions	9
2 Face: The Three-Tiered Chinese Version of Honor	11
3 From a Nation of Etiquette to a Society of Gifting	15
4 Presumption of Untrustworthiness (Guilt)	21
5 Unwritten Rules	25
6 Promises	31
7 Pursuit of Quick Success and Instant Benefits (PQSIB)	37
8 Drinking Culture	41
PART II
Social Structure	49
9 Harmonious Society	51
10 Subcultures	57
11 Social Circles	63

vi	Table of Contents
12	Employment Equality	69
13	The Status of Women	77
14	Migrant Workers	83
PART III
	Marriage and Family	89
15	Families	91
16	Ideal Spouse and Child	97
17	Extramarital Relationships	101
18	Divorce and Divorcees	107
19	Leftover Women	113
PART IV
	Needs, Values, and Aspirations	121
20	Life Objectives and the Chinese Dream	123
21	Role Models	129
22	The Generations	133
23	The Nouveau Riche	139
24	Environmentalism	143
PART V
	World View	149
25	Attitude towards Foreign Nations	151
26	Cultural Identity	157
27	Faux Emigrants	163

PART VI
Religion and Belief	169
28 Religion and Faith	171
29 Superstition	179
PART VII
Arts and Entertainment	185
30 Nine Traditional Skills of the Cultured Chinese	187
31 Duanzi	193
32 Cuisines and Restaurants	199
33 Nightlife	207
PART VIII
Governing System	215
34 Political System: Governing as Partners	217
35 Legislative System: People's Congresses	225
36 Administrative System	231
37 Legal System	237
38 Corruption	243
39 Social Thoughts	251
PART IX
Economic System	257
40 The Three Types of Chinese Companies	259
41 Business to Business	267

viii Table of Contents

42	The Business to Consumer Market	273
43	Brands	279
44	Pursuit of Expensive Products	285
PART X
	Education System	291
45	K-12 and Beyond	293
46	Studying Abroad	299
47	Executive Master of Business Administration (EMBA)	305
48	Professor and Scholarship	311
PART XI
	Communication System	317
49	Unidirectional Communication	319
50	Bidirectional Communication	325
51	Open Circle Communication	331
52	Closed Circle Communication	337